What Is ADR?

Definition: Any procedure agreed to by the parties to resolve disputes using a third party neutral

Types: Mediation, facilitation, arbitration, conciliation, fact-finding, use of ombuds, early neutral evaluation, mini-trials, or any combination

Why Do ADR?

It saves money: saves time, money, resources

It makes sense: helps focus on both parties' interests;
builds better relationships

It advances DLA strategic goals:

- ◆ #1: Supporting Our Customers
- ◆ #2: The Revolution in Business Affairs
- ◆ #3: Enabling Our Workforce
- ◆ #5: Partnering with Industry

It's DCMC Policy

- ◆ DCMC Commander letter, “Use of Alternative Dispute Resolution to Resolve Contract Disputes” (April 5, 1996)
- ◆ DCMC One Book, Chapter 4.2.7, “Disputes and Appeals,” Section 3.

“ADR shall be considered and, if appropriate, attempted even before issuing a final decision.”

It's DLA policy

- ◆ DLAD 5145.1: Encourages the expanded use of ADR. If unassisted negotiations do not resolve an “issue in controversy,” ADR must be considered and a management decision not to use ADR must be explained in writing by an official at least one level above the deciding official, after consultation with counsel.

It's Administration policy

- ◆ Presidential Memorandum: Committee to Facilitate and Encourage ADR, May 1, 1998
- ◆ DOJ Policy Statement on the Use of ADR, 61 Fed. Reg. 4729 (1996)
- ◆ DOD Directive 5145.5 (April 22, 1996)

It's the law

- ◆ Administrative Dispute Resolution Act (ADRA) of 1996 (amending 1990 law), Pub.L. 104-320. Agencies must have an ADR specialist; for DLA it is the General Counsel. PLFA legal offices all have ADR specialists.
- ◆ Executive Order 12988 (2/9/96), Civil Justice Reform, to reduce Government litigation; use informal dispute resolution/ADR.

FAR Requirements

Protests: FAR 33.103 (c)

Disputes: FAR 33.201, 33.204, 33.210, 33.214,

- ◆ Agencies encouraged to use ADR
- ◆ Contracting officers are authorized to use ADR
- ◆ Contracting officer who refuses contractor request for ADR must inform contractor, in writing, of reasons
- ◆ Contractor who refuses Government request for ADR must inform contracting officer in writing, of reasons (see also 33.214(b))

The ADR “Mindset”

ADR is always a “win.” “Winning” means getting what you want. ADR helps focus on what both parties want. ADR is also valuable even if parties can’t resolve disagreement (focus/narrow issues; improve relationships).

ADR is “interest based.” Traditional dispute resolution is on the position or the issue. ADR is about interests. Is it in our interest to keep insisting we are legally right (even if we are) if we alienate contractors/employees and spend lots of money answering letters, complaints to OSD/Congress/ the Director?

What is Mediation?

Definition: Mediation is a process where parties meet with a third party neutral (the mediator) in a nonadversarial setting to seek resolution of the dispute. The mediator helps the parties craft their own solutions to the problem. If successful, mediation results in a written agreement resolving the dispute.

Preference for Mediation: DLAD 5145.1 gives special emphasis to mediation in selecting ADR, because of its particular benefits.

Mediation Benefits

- ◆ Parties typically save money, resources, time
- ◆ Parties retain control of the result
- ◆ Parties have more options than in other forums
- ◆ Parties can preserve business relationships/reduce likelihood of further disputes
- ◆ Parties can address the real issues in dispute
- ◆ Parties work directly with each other
- ◆ Parties may avoid unfavorable judicial/administrative precedent
- ◆ Mediation has good success rates; even if unsuccessful, parties retain existing rights.

RESOLVE

- ◆ Reach Equitable Solutions Voluntarily and Easily
- ◆ DLA EEO Mediation Program
- ◆ Joint GC/CAAH Project
- ◆ Resolution of complaints at informal stage
- ◆ In-house mediators
- ◆ Voluntary participation by employees

You Can Resolve Disputes without Third Party, But...

Trust Problems: party sees DLA as the “opponent;” does not believe DLA position (“reactive devaluation”)

Reality Testing: mediator/neutral can evaluate the case; temper unrealistic positions.

Problem-Solving: neutral can help explore options that the parties could not identify themselves.

Builds partnerships: provides a forum for better listening and problem-solving; shows DLA cares enough to give a hearing with a third party.

Your Role: How to Make ADR "Happen"

- ◆ Be sure your personnel are trained in ADR/Mediation (contact your legal office)
- ◆ Be sure your personnel consider ADR, early on, in working issues
- ◆ Every dispute presents an ADR opportunity, especially:
  - personnel disputes
  - termination disputes
  - REAs
  - quality issues
  - cost reasonableness issues
  - other
